

The dynamics of the meandering Elbow River, its alluvial aquifer and the entire hydraulic ecosystem should be much better understood by the engineers developing the causeway. Current plans will alter the ecosystems, biodiversity, water quality, fish habitat and more, while reducing forest rejuvenation and increasing risk of forest fires over the long-term.